IETP 140: Advising and Programming in International Education—An Intercultural Approach

Module 1: International Education: What’s Culture Got to Do with It?

Your Cultural Self
  Where I’m From
  What’s Your Culture?

Cultural Assumptions
  Who Are You?
  Where Are You a Local?

Culture Theories
  Interculturalist Theories
  Cultural Iceberg Metaphor

From Theory to Understanding
  Do Your Dimensions Show?
  Culture Mind Maps

Culminating Task: Reflecting on Your Culture

Module 2: What Difference Does Difference Make?

Considering Your Interactions
  Describe—Interpret—Evaluate (DIE)

Theories on Cultural Interactions
  Cultural Interaction Theories
  Visualize Your Interactions

Theory to Practice
  Self-Assessment Using the IDC
  Identifying High CQ
  Re-Imagining a Mindful Interaction

Culminating Task: Reflecting on Your Interactions

Module 3: Advising International Students

The Role of the International Student Advisor
  Core Competencies and Ethics
  Documenting Required Competencies

Student Advising Models
  Theories of Advising
  Applying Methods of Advising
  Advisors, Not Counsellors

The Advising Session
  Setting the Stage
  Expanding Advising Services

Culminating Task: Advising Case Study

Module 4: Programming for International Students

Program Planning
  Past Programs
  The Logic Model

Program Development
  Collaborative Programming
  Collaborative Program Plan

Program Evaluation
  Considerations for Program Evaluation

Culminating Task: A Program Takeaway

Module 5: Advising Study-Abroad Students

Basic Principles of Advising
  Ethics and Competencies
  Where is “Abroad”?

Successful Advising
  Myths and Barriers
  Know Your Audience

Advising Students Abroad
  Staying in Touch
  Students in distress

Culminating Task: Current Study-Abroad Advising

Module 6: Programming for Study Abroad

Pre-Departure Programs
  Pre-Departure Programs: Fact Finding
  Good Practises

While Abroad
  Guided Learning
  Good Programming Practices

Re-Entry Programs
  Re-Entry Programming Feedback

Culminating Task: Programming Reflections

Programming for Study Abroad: Course Culminating Task